

Working at Energy Consumers Australia

Who are we?

Here at Energy Consumers Australia, we're committed to securing a better future for all households and small businesses because we believe that no one should be left behind in the energy system transformation. That's why we listen directly to consumers to provide evidence of their hopes, needs, and expectations for our energy system.

Importantly, we conduct rigorous research to develop evidence-based policies to deliver clean, affordable, and reliable energy for all Australians. We work collaboratively across government, industry, and consumer groups to develop a shared commitment to place consumers at the heart of the energy system.

Our values

- We are independent. We are rigorous and inquisitive in challenging the status quo.
- We are evidence-based. What we think, say and do is supported by research.
- We work collaboratively. We are inclusive in our engagement and open in our communications.

Why work with us?

This is an exciting time to be working in the energy space with a major transformation underway. However, what exactly the end state is, or how we'll get there, is still very much up for grabs. The decisions that we make now will have long-term impacts for how our energy systems will operate and function. We have the opportunity to directly embed consumers' values, wants, and needs into a newly imagined energy system and make a lasting impact.

We work directly with federal and state ministers, regulators, market bodies, industry, consumer advocates, and other stakeholders working to influence the energy sector. This diverse access means we can influence policy and outcomes end-to-end.

We address all the issues that affect energy consumers – from whole of system planning to designing effective assistance for vulnerable people – ensuring you'll be intellectually stimulated and learn new things every day. We're a small team with high impact so there are plenty of opportunities to lead projects, shape organisational thinking, and grow new skills. As a relatively young organisation, we embrace creativity and innovation to ensure we're delivering the best outcomes for consumers.

Undoubtedly, the issue is complex. But what better place to tackle some of the wicked problems of the energy system than with a bunch of whip-smart, passionate people, who will support you every step of the way.
